Product care & maintenance

Although our products are extremely weather-resistant and virtually maintenance-free, there are some easy and tried solutions for cleaning and caring for your chairs to keep them looking like new.

Poly is smooth to the touch, making it easy and basically self-cleaning. It does not absorb moisture; therefore, it will not stain. It is safe to leave out all seasons; spring, summer, autumn, and winter. It's also fairly heavy, so it's safe in the wind and storms. Snow and ice will not affect it. The Sun is your worst enemy, and that's especially true for your chairs. Everything will fade eventually, even if only slightly. Our poly uses high color fast UV protection systems to keep your chairs vibrancy for years, even decades, and has come a long way since early gen technologies.

UV Covers and waxes can help preserve the shine and color life of your chair. Keep an eye on our products list or ask your local dealer to see available covers, or find them everywhere online.

When it comes to cleaning, soap and water will do the trick most of the time, wiping away stains and messes easily. Try this first.

Pressure washers will help remove dirt and grime that may have built up over the years or over winter. Don't get too close; it doesn't take much pressure to get your chair looking like new. Too much pressure, or scrubbing with too hard of a brush may cause the material to start getting fuzzy and rough.

Strong cleaners and solvents, such as bleach/water mixture or chlorine, are safe and can also help remove supposed stains. Check your local hardware store for outdoor plastic furniture cleaners. Currently, we do not offer a line of cleaning products.

A note on insect repellent.

Yellow, and dead plant colors, can, in certain areas worse than others, attract flying insects. We recommend using a natural repellent such as neem, which you can search for online, or inquire about at your local garden center.
